

Transitional arrangements International Business Administration

Introduction

In September 2014 a new curriculum for the Bachelor's programme International Business Administration is launched, starting with the first year programme. The new second year and third year programme will subsequently start in September 2015 and 2016. This means that, as from the academic year 2014 – 2015, the first year courses from the old curriculum will not be taught anymore. The Faculty Board has, in accordance with the Exam regulations and in consultation with the Programme Directors, Examination Board and the Joint Meeting, made transitional arrangements for students who did not pass one or more courses from the old first year curriculum.

General Information

- These transitional arrangements apply only to the first-year courses of the old Bachelor's programme International Business Administration and are valid only in the academic year 2014 – 2015.
- For all first-year courses included in the old curriculum and assessed by means of a written exam, two exam opportunities will be offered in the year 2014 - 2015.
- First-year courses from the old curriculum assessed by means of a formal assignment can be completed in the year 2014 – 2015 by handing in a new assignment.
- The validity of constituent results for courses that form part of the old first-year Bachelor's programme and were obtained in the year 2013 – 2014 will be extended to August 31, 2015.
- The Binding Study Advice regarding continuation of studies (BSA) applies in full, so the only students who are entitled to these transitional arrangements are students who will receive a preliminary positive advice in July / August 2014 or who will be granted an extension of the binding advice by the BSA committee.
- Students who have been granted an extension are urged to transfer to the new programme. They will be allowed to start afresh, which means that they can take two more years to obtain all first-year credits provided that they meet the BSA conditions before September 1st, 2015. All students concerned will be invited in the summer by the Academic Advisors for an individual meeting.

Appendix

Transitional arrangements per course

Transitional arrangements apply to the first year IBA courses in the table below. Per course the table provides more specific information about the arrangements and if necessary actions students have to take.

Integration Business Processes	Students can contact the course coordinator Mr. K. Metzger
Skills Lab	Students can contact the course coordinator Ms. K.A. Czako
Finance and Financial Arithmetics	For these courses, a first exam opportunity will be offered in week 7, period 1. Please note: it is not necessary to register for these exams via Vunet. For this week 7 in period 1 a separate exam schedule will be published on Vunet and the faculty website where students can find when and where their exam(s) will take place. After that students only have to make sure they are on the right time in the right place. All course / exam information relating to content can be found on the BB page 2013 – 2014 of the course. A second opportunity (oral or written) will be organized in week 7, period 4.
Logistics and Operations Research
Organizational Behaviour
Business Research Methods
Introduction to International Business Administration
Economics
Financial Accounting and Bookkeeping
Statistics	For this course, a first exam opportunity will be organized in week 8, period 4. Please note: it is not necessary to register for these exams via Vunet. In September the education office will register all students for the question-and-answer meeting and the exam. Date, time and place of the meeting and the exam will then be visible in the personal schedule on VUnet. A second opportunity will be organized in week 7, period 5.

For questions concerning these transitional arrangements, please contact the Academic Advisors (academic-advisor.feweb@vu.nl).
